TERSELY TOLD.

W. P. Rice, of Century, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Rice has just returned from Indiana where he spent some time and he brings back the report that Indiana is pretty sure to go democratic.

Henry McLaughlin returned yesterday from New York and other points, where he had been on a business trip of several weeks duration.

H. C. Edwards, of Tampa, is a registered guest of the Merchants.

M. G. Donk, of Washington, is in the city and registered at the Merchants.

Twenty-one cases were on the docket in the recorder's court yesterday morning for trial. Of this number two cases were continued, three defendants discharged and fines amounting to $46.50 imposed.

Geo. W. Turton, Jr., is again about the streets after an illness of several weeks with typhoid fever.

The drain in front of the court house is in a very bad condition, and instead of the water being carried off it stands in front of the building. The hitching of horses at the same point has caused it to become a very unsanitary place, which demands attention.

The maximum temperature at Pensacola yesterday was 82 degrees at 11:15 a. m., while the minimum was 73 degrees at 6 a. m. Last year on the same date the maximum was 80 degrees and the minimum 72 degrees. The average maximum for this date is 84 degrees and the average minimum 69 degrees.

The regular services at Christ church will be omitted this afternoon on account of the funeral of Dr. C. F. Marsh.

Dom McLellan left last night for Mobile, where he has accepted a position on the Herald.

A NEW IDEA IN THE TUBERCULOSIS FIGHT

How the Italian Families of a New York District Are Learning to Avoid Consumption—Art Plays Part in a Way That Appeals to Italian Mind.

(Exclusive Service Charities and The Commons Press Bureau)

The campaign against tuberculosis has taken a novel turn in one of the Italian sections of New York city. The omnipresent, unattractive "don't spit" signs have been superseded by handsome colored posters containing a few simple directions in regard to the prevention of consumption on the border.

This picture campaign is being carried on by the Committee on the Prevention of Tuberculosis of the New York Charity Organization Society. Heretofore the committee in its work of educating the community with regard to tuberculosis and the methods of prevention to be adopted, has directed its efforts not to any particular class nor to any particular section of the city. Its campaign of education has been carried on with all classes. Lectures have been given in settlements and churches, before labor unions and in connection with its traveling exhibit, but up to the present time no effort has been made to reach the tenement house population in its homes.

Beginning with the Italians, the committee has now inaugurated a plan of house to house visitation—or rather door to door visitation—in the older Italian quarter of the city. The Italian visitor, poster in hand, calls on the Italian families in this particular district and she is pretty sure of a welcome for there is a picture of the home country, a Venetian canal with a palace and its garden in the foreground and the Campanile in the distance. The picture was especially chosen because of its bright, gay color and its thoroughly Italian quality. The committee believed that a picture of this kind would especially appeal to the Italians, with their love of color, and that it would be one which they would delight in preserving and hanging on their walls. Had it been possible to obtain an equally attractive picture in color, of the Bay of Naples, this would have been chosen in place of the Venetian scene, as the committee recognized that many more of the Italians in New York come from the neighborhood of Naples than from Venice.

Printed with the picture is simple advice with reference to consumption. The picture bears this legend at the top: "A cough may lead to consumption, and then proceeds to give the following advice:

"If you have a cough or a cold that hangs on, if you even faintly suspect that your lungs are not strong, do not try to cure yourself. Go to a doctor, or to the nearest tuberculosis clinic where you will be treated free of charge if unable to pay."

Then is given the address of the clinic for the particular district in which the poster is being distributed. In New York there are at the present time ten such clinics forming together what is known as the Association of Tuberculosis Clinics. Each one is responsible for a definite district of the city and all people living in that district are required to be treated at that particular clinic.

In grouping the material upon the poster, especial consideration was given to this fact and it was so arranged that in subsequent editions to be distributed in other sections of the city the name and address of the clinic could readily be changed.

On one side of the picture are the following general directions:

"Sunlight, fresh air, good food, temperate habits are the best means of preventing tuberculosis. Keep your windows open day and night summer and winter."

"Don't spit on the sidewalks or floors or hallways of your homes or schools. It spreads disease. It is also dangerous."

At the bottom beneath the picture is added:

"Tuberculosis is not hereditary but is acquired, and generally preventable. When you must spit, spit in the gutter, or into a spittoon half filled with water."

Then there is a statement that the picture is given with the compliments of the Committee on the Prevention of Tuberculosis of the New York Charity Organization Society with its address. It will be seen at once that four important results are sought to be accomplished by the distribution of this poster.

First: An attractive picture is given in a friendly spirit to large numbers of the Italian tenement population who keep a poor artistic and artistic and who have little opportunity of indulging this taste in their homes.

Second: Sound advice is given with regard to the nature of tuberculosis and the best methods of prevention.

Third: Persons who are sick are referred to a dispensary or clinic in their neighborhood and are told that they may be treated there free of charge.

Fourth: A totally new conception is given to the foreign tenement house population of the importance of ventilation and its effect upon health.

The agent has found the windows shut in most of the homes she has visited, even when the room was filled with Italian women working on garments. Upon the agent advising them to open the windows at night, explaining that the way to keep from getting consumption is to have plenty of fresh air both night and day, the women have as a rule replied that they would all catch cold, and they have seemed horrified at the thought of opening their windows at night, exclaiming that "the night air" would surely bring illness. That the average Italian peasant living in a New York tenement should still believe in the danger of the "night air" is not surprising when we consider how this belief has been inculcated in them for generations, especially in districts where the night air is, indeed, a menace because of the mosquitoes carrying with them malaria and fevers of various kinds. Indeed, it is not so very many years since we in America were equally afraid of the night air. Upon having all these things explained to them, the women in many cases promise to keep their windows open and even to try it at night, saying that they did not know about it before. If the committee's funds warrant, a similar distribution will be made later on in "Little Italy" further uptown, and it is hoped that it may be possible this fall and winter to make a similar house to house distribution among the Jews, Bohemians and Negroes.

It is the committee's plan in each case to vary the nature of the poster. Among the Italians in Little Italy the same poster will probably be used but the location of the proper tuberculosis clinic for that neighborhood will of course be changed. With the Jews the poster will contain some scene suggesting the home country, possibly a Russian scene, will be selected. The nature of the advice given will be the same in each case. The idea is applicable in many other cities having foreign quarters.

BRYAN AND KERN CLUB HAS $65.50

Treasurer Thos. Johnson. Makes Report of Contributions.

The Escambia county Bryan and Kern Club is at work in an effort to collect a campaign fund for the great democratic presidential battle which is now on. Last week President Mayes and Secretary Monroe issued a circular letter to each officer and committeeman in the club urging him to get busy at once and help collect this fund.

When the club was organized an appeal was sent out and so far the total contributions aggregated $65.50. Treasurer Thos. H. Johnson of the club reports the following list of contributions:

Subscriptions Received.
Theo. Baars$15.00
J. S. Reese 15.00
S. M. Loftin 5.00
W. A. Blount, Jr. 5.00
Jas. McHugh, Jr. 1.00
S. S. Lightman 1.00
J. C. Goss 1.00
J. N. Andrews 2.00
J. C. Whiting 1.00
Chris Kovach 1.50
Thos. H. Johnson 3.00
R. M. Cary 10.00
Henry Bellinger 5.00
Total$65.50

These contributions are good as far as they go, but they should be increased at once. There are at least 3,000 democrats in Escambia county. More than 1,500 of these are already enrolled as members of the Bryan and Kern Club. Even one dollar from each would make a very creditable showing. But so far less than 50 people in Escambia county have subscribed.

Get ready with your dollar and send the money in at once. It is needed.

NEGROES WANT DOLLS OF COLOR

African Baptists Want Santa Claus to Bring Playthings of Own Hue.

By Associated Press.
Lexington, Ky., Sept. 22.—At a meeting of the Colored National Baptist Association, composed of negro leaders from all parts of the world, in session here, the following resolutions were passed yesterday:

"Whereas, our publishing board at Nashville, Tenn., under the management of Dr. R. H. Lloyd, is prepared to supply a long-felt need in a factory for negro dolls; and

"Whereas, our people for nearly half a century, because of the uncomely and deformed features of negro dolls, have spent thousands of dollars on white dolls for Christmas, etc.; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we do here and now give our endorsement and hearty approval of the negro doll factory, and not only urge the patronage of the people of our churches, as Baptists, but of the race at large throughout the United States.

FUNERAL AT 9 THIS MORNING

Little Dan Bergin, Journal Carrier, to Be Buried To-Day.

Little Dan Bergin, whose death occurred Monday afternoon at the home of his parents on East LaRue street, will be buried this morning and the funeral will occur at Sacred Heart church at 9 o'clock. The Journal was in error in announcing the funeral for yesterday morning.

Dan was a Journal carrier boy and the Journal's circulation force will attend the funeral in a body this morning. The boys will meet at The Journal office at 7:20 o'clock and will proceed to the home of their little deceased companion a short time before the funeral hour.

The following young men, who are to act as pall bearers, are requested to meet at the home at 8 o'clock this morning: Arthur Kirschner, Frankie Johnson, L. Bell, Willie Sullivan, Walter Wicke, Ray Watson, Carl Scheetz, Harry Hartman, Louis Solari, Gregory Quinn, Ed. Swaine and George Bonifay.

FIVE HOMES WERE BURNED

An Early Morning Blaze Destroyed Five Cottages on Hayne Street.

Five cottages, three of which were occupied by colored people and two unoccupied, all of which were located on North Hayne street, near the corner of Job, were destroyed by an early morning fire yesterday.

The fire originated in one of the occupied cottages, and quickly spread to the others, which were consumed with their contents. The cottages were located out of the fire limits, and consequently no alarm was turned in for the trucks. The houses were erected by W. C. Mackey.
